GAME COLOR

SETS

Available April 2024

All the Game Color sets have been renewed with the new brand image and the new formulation.

In addition, you will find new items, such as the 80-color case, sets that keep the same commercial name but change their item number due to changes in their assortment, and others that keep the same item number as there are no changes in their content, such as sets 72.296, 72.298, 72.299 and 72.303 which, due to their great demand, keep the same item number since the content remains unchanged but are presented with the new formulation and brand image.

We inform you that the sets with the new brand image will be available for sale from the end of April 2024 and that all current orders may contain both the old and the new brand image in their composition.
